Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hughes returned

Friday evening from an extended trip to Ontario. Mr. Morrison who has been taking Mr. Hughes' place during his absence, returned to his home in Lethbridge Saturday.

o o o

R. N. Moir returned Saturday via

Nanton. He has been visiting his boy-hood home in Ontario.

What are your views on Irrigation ?

o o o

Frank Vickers left Wednesday for the B.C. fruit country where he purposes buying a car of fruit. Mr. G. Hedges is assisting Miss Lane in the Grocery store during Mr. Vickers absence he intends being gone for a two weeks trip.

o o o

Mr. and Mrs. Norris Hanna are leaving soon, for Hanna Alberta where they will make their home this winter. Mr. Hanna has been transferred to that elevator. The local elevator will be closed this season, there not being grain enough to warrant keeping it open.

o o o

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Doane left Sunday for the Peace River country.

o o o

Mr. McNaughton M. L. A. was a Lomond visitor this week. We are receiving no end of government officials since the crop failure. Another year like the last and Lomond would be the most talked of district in Alberta. I think, however, most people will agree with me it is far more comforting to all concerned to have a good crop and fewer officials. At the present rate if we see a stranger we will think he is carrying an edition of Bradstreets.

o o o

Experience teaches us what fools we have been but unfortunately it doesn't prevent us from repeating.

Being a good fellow is all right in its way, but pay the grocer first.

o o o

Johnny Holo took a flying trip to Lethbridge this week on a haydeal, and you know Johnny has a habit of making good deals.

o o o

Chris Koch is moving his threshing machine up to the Bassano district for a season's run.

o o o

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Odland of Amethyst a daughter, Sunday August, 10 th.

An article that would certainly come under the helpful hints or the Pointed remarks class would be— If the letters in your PRESS are mostly upside down and you feel that you are in duty bound to read it, don't stand on your head in the corner as Mr. Jewsbury complains of having done, but, simply remain in your chair and turn the paper it can then be deciphered in comfort by the reader.

o o o

Dr. and Mrs. Walkey motored to Vulcan Monday to meet Mrs. Walkey's brother and sister. They will spend a short vacation with her.

o o o

Number of the Lomond people motor- to Vulcan to Vulcan to attend the Chautauqua held there last week. It proved to be quite a success. It would be to our advantage if Lomond could secure a few of the good musical numbers and lectures.

o o o

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. King arrived in Lomond Friday evening from their trip to Manitoba.

o o o

Elliott, Argue & Co. are this week advertising a car of preserving fruit to arrive early in September.

EIGHT ACRES UNDER WATER

With further reference to the eight acre pasture of mixed grasses on the C. P. R. demonstration farm, which has fed 20 sheep 20 lambs 10 cows, and at times from 6 to 10 horses all spring and summer, it is of interest to report that four tons of hay have been cut off this piece of land. Considerable comment has been aroused since The Bulletin published an article previously concerning the wealth of pasture this irrigated field created. Usually it takes from 10 to 20 acres of prairie to support one cow. This field was sown to pasture grasses last year. The sheep on this pasture produce 140 pounds of wool besides the lamb crop and the return on the investment of $300 in the yearling ewes is estimated at $275 in lambs and wool.—Brooks Bulletin.

COMING BACK ON THE JOB

We just arrived home today. Three weeks ago we turned the "devil" loose in the works and gave her a free hand. It is a good plan sometimes to give the other fellow a chance to exercise his, or her, powers and we are sure THE PRESS readers were refreshed by the original phraseology and methods of expression. No doubt one gets shaky at the beginning of such work, but it is only through constant endeavor that the latent talents can be uncovered and the full realization of merit brought to appreciation. We are going to semi-detach ourselves from the literary world to take up some of the responsibilities on the farm and give our "devil" a chance to make a name for herself.

o o o

We are becoming nauseated by the deluge of political bunk floating around the country, by the appointment of innumerable investigation committees that accomplish little or nothing beyond the expenditure of large sums of public money. The lack of virtue in profession alone brought the church into humiliation, and if we can decipher the signs of to-day, it will act much the same on politicians. Why spend all the money investigating the high cost of living and let the information be of no source of benefit to the people? Why place an embargo on raw hides as a blind towards reducing the retail cost of shoes? Such a silly awss of an idea! There is not more than twenty-nine cents worth of raw skin in the boots we are now wearing, yet they stood us six-fifty when new. Just realize what a tremendous saving cheaper raw hides would effect to the consumer. An idea like that should entitle the originator to a seat in the senate. Little wonder labor circles are in a state of unrest. There is nothing in their surroundings that has a tendency to stabilize emotions. The continual flaunting of "easy money" and "special privilege" grafters is enough to rile any honest-to-goodness individual, particularly when the pay envelope will barely encircle the ever swelling family budget.

TENDERS WANTED

Tenders will be received by the undersigned up to August 22nd., 1919, for the driving of the van routes on the four separate routes in the Lomond Consolidated School District No. 20. Tenderers must be prepared to provide bonds of indemnity.

NOTES

One of our subscribers when speaking of THE PRESS said "Why don't you write an editorial on a new subject, something that is going to happen instead of the crops that didn't, or the rain that did, we know all about those things." Little did the speaker realize the worries of a printer yet it seems to be our duty in life to try and please our readers, so, if an editorial on a new subject is wanted we will have to try and please them no matter what indignities we may submit the other members of the profession to.

Current Literature might be an interesting topic, to some, music, another, art, none seem to appeal to the imagination, they are time worn and weary. Suppose we try theme "Editorials." It might prove interesting those looking for novelty.

To some people the word "editorial" means kicks or knock, by a man of the world a world observer. To others a criticism or perhaps an encouragement. Nearly all editorials however, simmer down to a criticism of some kind and a source of eternal bother to a printer or an amateur printer. Their principal object is, to show the individual from the public standpoint the world progress or backsliding as the case may be.

Other objects are the promotion of better habits, showing the ruts they are digging for their own accommodation the remainder of their lives. Renewing polotics, helping the people think and in many cases bringing to their attention things they if it were not the printers task to think for them through the editorial column.

A great many of the present day people never think of reading an editorial, "they are too tiresome," is their comment, that no doubt is the fault of the editor, perhaps he too is one of the many who need stirring up perhaps the humble criticisms in this might apply to him.

This attempt of mine to give the readers something new has failed too, or rather has come back to what I have told you was the main object of an editorial, namely criticism. So I sorely afraid if any of the readers can think of an editorial that is new and free from the main element of criticism call at the office where the "Devil" may be found any day and many nights of the week trying to do the impossible, attempting to please her readers, and waiting patiently or impatiently as the case might be the return of the Editor-in-Chief.

C. P. R. OFFERS DAY LABOR TO ALL

C. P. R. Superintendent McArthur of Medicine Hat came up on today's train on a trip of inspection. Mr. McArthur stated to THE PRESS that the railway company was in a position to offer work to an unlimited number of men who will be put to work in special gangs at rebuilding fences, track ballasting and etc. Wages will be forty cents per hour and a ten hour day. Board will cost the men seven fifty a week.

This should provide an outlet for the pent up energies of a good many around here who are laid up through lack of crop. No doubt a great number have teams and would welcome a chance to get work for the entire outfit, but under the present circumstances it is not a case of pick and choose.

Anyone wanting to get on under the conditions mentioned above no doubt could make arrangements through the local C.P.R. agent or by communicating direct to Medicine Hat.

As far as Mr. McArthur was aware there was no work in this neighborhood, at least as far as extending the line is concerned.

Relief Absolutely Necessary

Premier Stewart and Hon. A. J. McLean are widely advertised as having thoroughly investigated conditions in the drouth-stricken areas of this province and finding no need for government relief. Their investigations must have been in a very limited area. There is no doubt but what there are many cases all through this area that really are in the dire straits of necessity right now and are without any means of helping themselves. No crops for two years, credit facilities exhausted, and all liquid assets long ago turned off in order to keep the institution running, they are now at a point where nothing but the intervention of some system of relief can save them from actual privation. The matter is serious and we will wager our reputation on the results of an investigation. We do not care to flaunt poverty before the general public but these people are merely the victims of circumstance and it is not in the best interests of the country that they be forced to pull up stakes and pull out.

C. Moranda is cutting his crop of Russian thistles and is stacking them for winter feed. He says that when put up properly with salt and cut at the right time they make excellent feed for both cattle and horses and they are very fond of it. Who would have believed that a weed that had been such a bug bear to the farmers of southern Alberta could be used to such advantage, the fact that they grow in a dry year is a comfort too.

A visit from six Grand Lodge officers on August 28th. is the basis of a great deal of anticipated excitement in the
